Staffing Employee Turnover Increased Marginally in 2006, Decreasing Average Tenure to 12.4 Weeks

Industry averages shown above are based on a fourth quarter supplement to the ASA Employment and Sales Survey, which covers about 10,000 establishments.

The temporary help turnover rate is based on annual average daily employment and the number of W-2 forms issued to temporary employees for the calendar year.

The rates indicate that annual average tenure has ranged from 9.5 to 12.5 weeks over the past decade, or about two and a half months.
